Regulating Aversion: Tolerance in the Age of Identity and Empire

Happily, too, youth culture today seems far less hung up in sexual judgment than at previous times - though this communication-sawy generation has created its own mores, since most of the people in high school, college, and beyond were subjected to terrible sex education, non-pleasure-oriented and larded with sex-negative attitudes. Since this development process is so large as in the case of the industrializations of China and India and the economic recovery of Russia afterpolitical disorder in the center of Eurasia over energy matters can have an impact much larger than a struggle over national boundaries.
